An Adventure Endeshabilite.—One evening last week an Island benedict was sitting alone in his dining-room, scratching stray thoughts in his diary, when he thought he heard music in the air. Upon opening the shutters he plainly distinguished the sweet music of Jo. Kramer's and, which came tumbling along from the direction of the residence of a newly-married pair, who had just returned from their bridal tour. Our friend enjoyed the delicious strains until they ceased, when he closed the shutters and began to think of retiring. As he did not wish to wake the heir of the house, the youngest born, he relieved himself of his clothes before ascending the stairs, and fluttered to his room divested of everything but his shirt. Now, there was a youin tell endesh might also have been attracted by the sweet strains of the invisible serenaders. So he boldly entered a frontroom, for some purpose unknown to the writer, and lamp in hand made a picturesque and-no doubt graceful detour through the apartment. He was not a little astonished, however, to hear the sound of retreating footsteps, and upon turning round to observe a couple of females to him that his wife and her lady visitor had been seated at the window when he entered the room, and as his costume was not strictly in accordance with drawing, room ettiquette, the ladies had precipitately vamoosed the ranche. The story was too good to keep, and the hero of the shirt scene sold it upon himself.

The Demarksh-Powell Boat Race.

The boat race between Frank Denmarsh and Ed. Powell, of Pittsburgh, attracted an immense crowd of people to the banks of the Ohio in the lower part of the city Saturday afternoon. The race took place over the lower course, from a point opposite the Baltimore & Ohio water works one mile and a half down the river and back to point of starting. The stakes were $300 a side and Mr. Chris. Scibke was the stake holder. R. Walker Peterson, Eaq., acted as referee, and Messra. Ed. Knowles, Barney Moran, Dan. Cochran and Thomas Doyle were the judges. The race was the more interesting because of a previous pull between the same parties at Pittsburgh, in which we believe Denmarsh was, as in the presentinstance, victorious.

Sr. Louis, September 5.—A despatch from Washington of a day or two ago relating to the Postoffice Department agreeing to send the mail to Rio Janeiro by the Mississippi Valley & Brasil Steamship Line, contained errors which it is proper to correct. The company is a St. Louis enterprise, and has its headquarters here, but will start its steamers from New Orleans; freight for them being shipped from here or Cincinnati by the Mississippi Valley Barge Line. The first steamer leans; freight for them being shipped from here or Cincinnati by the Missisaippi Valley Barge Line. The first steamer will leave Rio Janeiro November 1st. The extensive trade between the countries is such that both of these enterprises are meeting with much encouragement from merchands, manufacturers, etc., and their prospects for a speedy opening and establishment of a large and remunerative trade between this valley and their prospects for a speedy opening and establishment of a large and remunerative trade between this valley and company is soliciting a cargo for this steamer from the various points in the Mississippi Valley, and has assurances of freight from Louisville, Cincinnati, Detroit, and other points in the West.

Another enterprise similar in character called the Mississippi Valley and Orenoco Trading Company has recently been incorporated here and organized with some of our most active and enterprising merchants as its officers. This company will start a sailing vessel for the Valley, Orenoco river and South America, touching all immediate points probably next month and bring back a freight of coffee and South American products such as are most saleable in this country. This is intended as an experiment adventure, and if it proves successful the company will increase its stock and put on a line of steamers.
